

Warranty Return Form

You must return the entire rod (include all broken pieces) so that we can fit the sections together properly before return. When returning your rod, please make sure it is packed either in its original or comparable packaging. You are responsible for shipping and insurance charges. Insure the rod at its full value.

For return shipments within the U.S. after one year from purchase (knowing that often you won't fish the rod immediately), include a check for $50, or Visa, MasterCard, or American Express number.

Please return using U.S. Postal Service or contact us to arrange alternative carrier service.

International customers please contact us before returning your rod.
